On Foodstuffs Favored by Rep. Fitzgerald Who Will Offer Bill

WOULD REDUCE PRICES

Also Claims Action Would Bring About Prompt Settlement of Black List Difficulties With Great Britain—Declares Food Prices Abroad Are Lower Than in This Country.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, Nov. 22.—Representative Fitzgerald, Democrat, chairman of the house appropriations committee, announced today that he favored an embargo on foodstuffs and that it was his purpose to prepare a bill and to press the subject early the coming session of congress.

"Two reasons chiefly impel me to favor embargo legislation on foodstuffs," said Mr. Fitzgerald. "It is the most effective weapon in our controversy with Great Britain over her unwarranted, outrageous and indefensible blacklist of American merchants. As our foodstuffs are needed abroad, an embargo will be more effective than weary months of diplomatic negotiations which end in the continuance of the indefensible practices against our rights.

"The embargo also should be imposed for purely domestic reasons. The prices of food stuffs have reached levels that are bringing widespread distress to the country. Many hundreds of thousands of our people are suffering from the lack of the necessities of life. Wholesale prices in many commodities are less abroad today than they were a year ago; here the retail prices have advanced alarmingly.

"The argument that nothing should be done to interfere with the expansion of our foreign trade does not impress me. Of what profit is it if our foreign trade is to grow with leaps and bounds while our own people are brought to the verge of starvation as a result of it. The time is ripe for the embargo and I hope to see legislation speedily enacted to impose it. Let America be for America first."

It seems to be generally agreed here that the coming session of congress will see a fight over the embargo proposal which is backed by monster petitions signed by thousands of persons and organizations.

President Wilson and the cabinet are understood to oppose it.

SPANISH BUDGET CUTS EXPENSES; NEW TAX SYSTEM

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, Nov. 22.—A new budget proposed for Spain to replace the one presented in June and withdrawn by royal order cuts expenditures in nearly all the departments of the government, American consular reports show, and at the same time increases revenues through indirect taxation.

The new budget shows a surplus of $17,000,000. It reduces the appropriation for the war ministry by more than one million dollars.

Authorization is given for reconstructing Spain's financial and tax system and for establishment of a national agricultural bank and a bank of commerce.

Solicitors Are Encouraged By Ready Response of Gas Users to Novel Campaign

Team captains and workers for the hospital and city library fund are meeting with varied success in their canvass of the business districts for signatures to agreements by which gas consumers pledge themselves to give a half interest in the escrow fund to the two worthy institutions.

The work is progressing slowly on account of a large number of solicitors or team members, being absent from the city. It had been the original plan to complete the canvass of the business district Thursday evening but that will be impossible and so the time has been extended in order that every person may be invited.

The captains and their workers turned in the results of their efforts to Chairman H. D. Woodbridge last evening in his office, 406 Trust building. A number have contributed their entire interest in the escrow fund, doing the same cheerfully without solicitation. Others contribute 50 per cent of their interest in the fund, both in business place and home.

One of the workers made an early

FEARS

Expressed for Safety of Rumanian Army in Orsova Region

RAIL COMMUNICATION CUT

New Battle Opens Along the Macedonian Front, Where Teutonic Allies Resist Pursuit of Conquering Serbs and French—Quiet Prevails On Front in Belgium and France.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) London, Nov. 22.—The fate of the Rumanian armies in western Wallachia appears yet to be hanging in the balance.

The exact measure of the fruits gathered by the Teutonic invaders from their capture of the important Wallachian city of Craiova reported yesterday is not yet apparent, but fears are expressed in entente quarters for the safety of the Rumanian forces that have been operating in the Orsova region, on the western Rumanian frontier, now that the main line railroad has been cut at Craiova. Also it seems virtually all of western Wallachia has been won by the armies of the Central Powers.

A new battle has opened on the Macedonian front where the Bulgarians and Germans who evacuated Monastir are making a stand against the pursuing Serbians and French. Paris reports the Teutonic allies making a stubborn resistance, and a heavy fog also holding up the advance.

The battle line is at its nearest point to Monastir immediately north of the city at SNEGOWA and runs thence almost directly eastward across the country within the bend of the Cerna river. In pushing the German-Bulgarian forces back to this line the entente troops have made important captures of men and material. Today's French statement reports the taking of 500 additional prisoners.

Comparative quiet continues to prevail on the Franco-Belgian front, London announcing nothing more important than artillery and patrol activity.

PAPER SHORTAGE DISCUSSED BY OHIO PUBLISHERS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Cleveland, Nov. 22.—The shortage of white paper and the necessity of steps leading to the conservation of the present supply were the leading topics of discussion for the Select List of Ohio Dailies, representatives of which met here yesterday. Forty-five newspapers of Ohio compose the organization. A dinner and a theatre party last evening were the closing events of the convention.

GET WAGE INCREASE.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Kansas City, Nov. 22.—To aid them in combating increased cost of living laborers at nine plants of the Long Belt Lumber company in Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas today were granted a wage increase effective December 1. The rate was not announced but it was said the advance would increase the annual payroll by $250,000.

BREWERS TAKE UP SUGGESTIONS TO BETTER CONDITIONS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Cleveland, Nov. 22.—Abandonment of brewery signs on building exteriors, abolition of treating by proprietors, removal of screens, closer supervision of licenses and giving up objectionable advertising are among recommendations to be submitted the United States Brewers' association at its two day convention which opened here this morning.

report this morning, turning in fifteen signed agreements. It is such work as that which encourages Chairman Woodbridge and assures ultimate success of the project.

Mrs. W. D. Fulton and Mrs. Grace P. Kennedy, who will have charge of the women teams to canvass the residential district, announce a change in their plans. They desire all women workers to meet with them in the office of Chairman Woodbridge in the Trust building Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. Plans will then be formulated for the canvass of the city to begin Friday morning instead of next Monday as originally planned. The change is made on account of Thanksgiving holiday coming next and the women will want a couple of days to prepare for the annual feast day.

Mrs. Fulton and Mrs. Kennedy invite all women of the city to join them in the work. Solicitors will be needed and it is urged that every woman who can possibly do so attend the meeting Thursday evening. The same plan will be followed by the women in covering the city as

DEATH FINALLY ENDS UNHAPPY LIFE OF AGED AUSTRIAN EMPEROR

FRANCIS JOSEPH, EMPEROR OF AUSTRIA, DEAD OF PNEUMONIA

London, Nov. 22.—Emperor Francis Joseph died at 9 last night at Schoenbrunn Castle, according to a Reuter dispatch from Vienna by way of Amsterdam. He was 87 years old.

The first intimation received here that Emperor Francis Joseph's health was again the subject of solicitation was contained in a dispatch dated November 12, emanating from a Vienna news agency, which reported that the emperor had been suffering for some days from a slight affection. Subsequent reports from various sources, more or less conflicting, represented that his condition was becoming worse, but none of them indicated that his illness threatened to reach a critical stage.

OFFICIALLY ANNOUNCED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Paris, Nov. 22.—A Havas dispatch from Madrid says the Austrian embassy has announced officially the death of Emperor Francis Joseph.

This is the first official announcement of the emperor's death to be received.

PARIS PAPERS MERCILESS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Paris, Nov. 22, 7 a. m.—Although no official confirmation of the death of Emperor Francis Joseph has been received in Paris early this morning, the press generally accepted the news as authentic. Special editions announcing the emperor's death were bought up rapidly and the passing of the monarch was discussed with the greatest interest. In their comment the newspapers are merciless.

The Matin says: "The sinister old man who for sixty-eight years wore the double crown disappears too soon, notwithstanding his eighty-six years, for he has not seen the approaching hour of expiation of the crimes for which he will bear eternally in history a crushing responsibility and stigma. But the spectre of punishment must have haunted his latter days if this man, so monstrously indifferent, was accessible to any feeling whatever:—this man who witnessed unmoved the worst catastrophes heaped up by fate on his family in this country. The irony of fate. If he had disappeared from the scene three years sooner the world would have forgotten his calculating cowardice, his ferocious ecstasies, his hypocrisy, and he would have remembered only the private and public misfortunes which marked almost all the years of his reign, without reflecting that these misfortunes were all deserved. He would, perhaps, have been pitied. But justice has not permitted that he swindle the world out of this supreme homage. It has made for his death a setting of reprobation and horror."

It is not believed in Paris that the death of the emperor will affect the war in any way. The general impression here is that he had long been more or less of a figurehead, signing without reading documents to which his signature was necessary and taking no part in affairs of state.

END CAME QUICKLY. (ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) London, Nov. 22.—Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria practically died in harness according to an Amsterdam dispatch to the Central News. The dispatch says that the emperor rose at his usual hour on Tuesday and engaged in governmental business. He received his daughter, the Archduchess Marie Valerie, at eight o'clock, and two hours later gave an audience to Foreign Minister Burian. In the afternoon his condition grew worse and in the early evening his temperature rose and the physicians realized that death was approaching. It is reported in Berlin that Emperor William will attend the funeral.

COLD CAUSED DEATH. (ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Paris, Nov. 22.—The death of Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria was caused by a cold which the aged monarch caught while walking in Schoenbrunn park ten days ago with the king of Bavaria, according to a Zurich dispatch to the Parisien. The cold developed into pneumonia of the right lung. When it was realized yesterday that the emperor's condition was serious his daughter, Archduchess Marie Valerie and his nephews, the Archduke Charles Francis, heir apparent, and Joseph

Men of Newark

Dr. R. F. E. CORKWELL, THE WELL KNOWN OSTEOPATHIST.

With a suite of offices in the Avalon building at 96 1-2 West Main street, was born in a log cabin in Pickaway county, Ohio. He assisted his father on the farm and attended country and village school, and being a thrifty boy saved his money so that he might obtain a college education.

The subject of this sketch entered the Ohio Northern University at Ada, O., taking a scientific course and later graduating from that institution. He taught school for a time and then went to Kirksville, Mo., graduating from the American School of Osteopathy in 1902, coming direct to this city where he opened an office and where he has been very successful in the practice of his chosen profession.

Dr. Corkwell was one of the instigators and founders of the Still-Hildreth sanitarium at Macon, Mo., an institution for the treatment of mental and nervous diseases only. The doctor is also one of the directors. He also assisted in organizing and is one of the directors in the National Life Insurance company of St. Louis, Mo., the company doing a large volume of business. He is also a director of the Park National bank. Dr. Corkwell resides with his family at 544 Hudson avenue. He is a Mason, Knight Templar, Shriner and member of the I. O. O. F.

NOTED LEADERS OF ANTI-SALOON HERE SUNDAY

Two of the most noted leaders of the Anti-Saloon League forces of America, John G. Woolley of Illinois, and George W. Morrow of Michigan, will speak at the "Dry America" rally at the Central Church of Christ next Sunday, Nov. 26, at 2:30 p. m. All are welcome. Admission free.

John G. Woolley is one of the colossal figures of the temperance reform. For more than a score of years he has gone up and down the land like a consuming flame, calling upon the church to throw off its indifference and make war to the death on the legalized saloon.

Dr. Herbert Welch, former president of Ohio Wesleyan University, says:

"John G. Woolley's public addresses are passionate and powerful pleas for righteousness. Their spirit is virile and bracing. Any lover of his country and of his kind ought to find in them impulses to the more thorough application of Christian principles to public life. Dr. Woolley is a great orator and a great man. His words are sure to be of great help."

UNABLE TO EAT.

(Associated Press Telegram)

London, Nov. 22.—The death of Emperor Francis Joseph has caused notable emotion in Vienna, says the Exchange Telegraph company's Amsterdam correspondent. The general public was not aware of the serious nature of his illness, according to these advisers, because of the non-alarming character of the bulletins issued.

The emperor, the dispatch adds, was feverish yesterday afternoon, being unable to eat his evening meals and retiring at 7 o'clock, assisted to his bed chamber by his daughter, Archduchess Valerie. He found himself unable to sleep and asked that his physicians be summoned, complaining of pains in the throat.

At nine o'clock the emperor appeared to be in a more restful state. A few moments later, according to the details received, the doctors saw him and he made a gesture pointing to his throat. A second afterwards he was dead. Members of the imperial family were summoned, as were the officials of state, who prepared an announcement of the death.

Emperor William was immediately informed of the passing of his ally, the message being sent over the telephone which links the headquarters of the German army with Schoenbrunn palace.

Nothing has yet been decided, it is said, with regard to the emperor's accession.

The meeting was called to order at 3 o'clock by County Deputy J. E. Barrick of Johnstown, who after a few brief remarks introduced Congressman W. A. Ashbrook who presided throughout the session. Cong. Ashbrook made a pleasing introductory address and then introduced Keeper of Records and Seals J. E. At 5 o'clock Newark lodge conferred the Page Rank upon two candidates, one from this city and one from Utica, the work being exemplified in a splendid manner.

At 6:30 a line of march was formed and all repaired to the banquet hall, where an excellent dinner was served by the Pythian Sisters. It consisted of all kinds of delicacies and was heartily relished by 338 hungry knights, the number seated at the festal board. After desert had been served, Congressman Ashbrook again took charge and acted as toastmaster, a number being called upon for brief talks.

After the banquet a parade was formed in East Main street, headed by the K. of P. drum corps and the Uniform rank, others in line being from Newark and Roland lodges, and they marched west on Main street and then around the square and back to the Castle where the parade disbanded. It is said that there were over 500 Knights in line.

All next repaired to the lodge room where the Knight Rank was exemplified by Roland Lodge, the officers being highly complimented for their work. There were three candidates from this city and one from Alexandria. This was followed with interesting talks by Messrs. Stoughton of Westerville, Uhler of Columbus and B. F. McDonald of this city.

Mr. Rauk is also quite good and has a fine stage voice. Both principals screen well and their friends, as well as the friends of the scene of other local actors, are eagerly awaiting the showing of the picture.

DEUTSCHLAND SAFELY PASSES ALLIED WARSHIPS

(Associated Press Telegram)

Nantucket, Mass., Nov. 22.—The merchant submarine Deutschland, returning to Germany with a valuable cargo, was believed today to have left American waters in safety. Darkness, which set in soon after the steamer left New London, Conn., yesterday afternoon, prevented observation of the submarine's progress along shore and there was no word from her since she passed Watch Hill, R. I., at sunset last evening, a barely distinguishable object ten miles off shore.

If she maintained her speed of ten knots an hour it was figured she should have passed Nantucket south shoals lightship in the darkness early this morning. Then, with the open sea ahead, the Deutschland could set out on the 4,000 miles course by which her commander, Captain Koenig, hoped again to evade the blockading vessels of allied navies supposedly watching for her coming.

Charles Francis Joseph, Dual Empire's New Ruler, Is Well Liked By People

WITHIN a short time the death of the Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria-Hungary, preceded by the removal by assassination from the line of succession of his nephew, Archduke Ferdinand, has placed on the throne of the ancient dual empire the man who was known formerly as the Archduke Charles Francis Joseph. On him devolves the task of maintaining the position of Austria-Hungary at home and abroad.

Before Francis Ferdinand met his tragic death, with his morganatic wife, the Duchess of Hohenberg, at the hands of a young Serb in Sarajevo, it was predicted freely that he would be the last emperor to rule over united Austria and Hungary, with the many other divisions of the old empire. But Francis Ferdinand did not live to wear the famous historic iron crown, and it remains to be seen how long it will rest on the head of his nephew, Charles Francis Joseph.

The new emperor is the son of the Archduke Otto, who was the younger brother of Francis Ferdinand. Archduke Otto was born at Graz in 1865 and died in Vienna in 1906. The mother of the new emperor was a Saxon princess. He himself is a Hapsburg.

Emperor in a Public School.

Charles Francis Joseph was born at Persenbeug on Aug. 17, 1887. He attended the Vienna public schools, something previously unheard of in his family, and to this association with the sons of workmen the beginning of his popularity with the people of his empire is said to be due. Before his accession he held high military rank in the powerful Austrian army and held honorary commissions in the Eleventh Prussian hussars, the First Saxon uhlan and the Thirtieth Bavarian infantry. Among the honorary orders of which he was a member are those of the Golden Fleece, the Black Eagle and St. Hubert.

The public school life of Charles Francis Joseph lasted only a short time. Under the supervision of his mother, Archduchess Maria Josepha, governesses and private tutors looked after the young archduke until he was fourteen, while the emperor also took much interest in his course of studies.

At fourteen he entered the Schottische gymnasium in Vienna, a school attached to the convent of the Benedictines, founded by Scotch monks who came to Austria in the sixteenth century. As a member of the imperial family the young archduke came of age at eighteen, when he received the order of the Golden Fleece, and at the same time entered the army as lieutenant in an aristocratic cavalry regiment.

Must Know Many Languages.

It was then that his serious education as a future monarch and ruler began. The experience and special knowledge required from any sovereign in these days demand a tremendous amount of perseverance, labor and natural ability, but in the case of the Hapsburgs these are still further increased by the polyglot character of the empire over which they rule. The emperor of Austria and king of Hungary must speak at least half a dozen tongues.

The archduke began his state education at Prague under the guidance of high military officers. A seemingly bewildering but really carefully well thought out plan of study was prepared for the archduke, covering a wide range of statecraft. It included canon and ecclesiastical law, constitutional law, administrative procedure, common law, civil law and civil procedure, commercial law, banking law and criminal law and procedure. In addition to this complex mass of legal studies the archduke had also to study national economy, political economy, financial science and commercial politics. At the same time the young archduke was engaged in learning his military duties and in his odd time keeping up what he had learned of French, Italian, Hungarian, Polish and

New Ruler a Devout Catholic.

In fact, said to be quite certain that Charles Francis Joseph was a strong supporter of Germany and of the triple alliance.

It is generally thought that if the emperor be given a fair chance he is likely to prove a second Emperor Francis Joseph, and that under his future rule affairs in Austria and Hungary, both foreign and domestic, will pursue the same course as during the preceding reign. The new emperor is a devout Catholic, but like the old emperor, he does not make his religion an affair of politics. Although he has little experience in statecraft, he possesses the Czech, besides his native German tongue.

He Has a Good Memory.

He inherited the wonderful memory and intellectuality of the Hapsburgs, which enabled him to assimilate a fair sum of general knowledge in a comparatively brief time.

He is credited with the possession of tact, the ability to say the right thing at the right time and in the right manner to everybody with whom he is brought in contact. He shows an intelligent interest in many subjects, and especially in all military affairs, therein following the example of his great-uncle, Francis Joseph. Like the emperor, too, he is an enthusiastic sportsman, and whenever his military duties permit he is eager to have a few days' hunting.

Empress Member of Large Family.

Of her eighteen brothers and sisters many are feeble minded, but the Archduchess Zita herself has always been extremely healthy and of considerable mental brilliancy. She received an old fashioned convent education, but is fond of tennis, hunting and outdoor sports in general and already has made a position for herself at the imperial court.

As usual, it is said that her union with the archduke was the result of a love match. In this case some color seems to be lent to the theory by the strong belief that the emperor had wanted Charles Francis Joseph to marry a daughter of the Archduchess Maria Valeria, his own favorite daughter, who was married in 1890 to the Archduke Franz Salvator of Hapsburg-Tuscany. Aside from his reputed disappointment at the failure of this plan, the old emperor is said to have been reluctant to see his grandnephew marry into the family of Parma, which contains so many subnormal members. The Princess Zita, however, impressed him so favorably after he had begun to make her acquaintance that the emperor, thinking of his dead wife, is said to have exclaimed that Zita would be a second Elizabeth.

The first child of the emperor and Empress Zita is a son, Francis Joseph Otto, born at the Villa Wartholz, near Reichenau, on Nov. 20, 1912. On Jan. 4, 1914, a daughter was born. Francis Joseph Otto is the new heir apparent.

Charles Francis Joseph and his wife were childhood playmates on the grounds of the Archduchess Maria Theresia in Vienna. But after that the two seldom met, as Zita was educated at a convent in Bavaria. She led such a retired life that it is said she met no man at all during those years of her girlhood.

Empress Zita enjoys an out of doors life and is fond of joining her husband when he goes upon shooting excursions. She enjoys tennis and other less strenuous sports.

Medicine Which Made Surgeon's Work Unnecessary.

Astoria, N. Y. — "For two years I was feeling ill and took all kinds of tonics. I was getting worse every day. I had chills, my head would ache, I was always tired. I could not walk straight because of the pain in my back and I had pains in my stomach. I went to a doctor and he said I must go under an operation, but I did not. I read in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and told my husband about it. I said 'I know nothing will help me but I will try this.' I found myself improving from the very first bottle, and in two weeks time I was able to sit down and eat a hearty breakfast with my husband, which I had not done for two years. I am now in the best of health and did not have the operation." — Mrs. John A. Koenig, 502 Flushing Avenue, Astoria, N. Y.

Every one dreads the surgeon's knife and the operating table. Sometimes nothing else will do; but many times doctors say they are necessary when they are not. Letter after letter comes to the Pinkham Laboratory, telling how operations were advised and were not performed; or if performed, did no good, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was used and good health followed.

If you want advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass.

The Dead Emperor Had Long Reign, But His Life Was Filled With Sorrow

FRANCIS JOSEPH (CHARLES) I., emperor of Austria, apostolic king of Hungary, king of Bohemia, king of Jerusalem, grand duke of Tuscany, duke of Lorraine, etc., was born at Schoenbrunn Aug. 18, 1830, the son of the Austrian Archduke Francis Charles and the Archduchess Sophie, his wife, who was a Bavarian princess. His origin was of the highest for in his veins flowed the blood of the Hapsburgs and Heralines, who for a thousand years had been makers of history. His grandfather, Francis I. of Austria, was the last Holy Roman emperor. Francis Joseph was no Owen Glendower, at whose birth "the front of heaven was full of fiery shapes," but the cannon which heralded his entrance into life had but lately been trained against the great Napoleon, and his cradle was rocked by storms which shook all Europe. The spirit of liberty was abroad, and it was not a propitious hour for princes to be born.

Discontent with the government was rife in Austria, the Italian provinces were filled with insurrection, and Hungary was clamoring for freedom. The popular movement grew as Francis Joseph grew. Metterlich retreated before the Austrian masses, and finally, when the expulsion of Louis Philippe from France set all the shackled people of the continent to rattling their fetters in the face of royalty, the Emperor Ferdinand abdicated, and his nephew, Francis Joseph, whose father had resigned his imperial rights, climbed upon Austria's tottering throne, an emperor at eighteen, in 1848.

Inaugurated Important Reforms.

The young monarch's first step was to promise a free and constitutional government, but in this he was beyond his time. The course of events compelled him to close the national assembly he had called and assume absolute power. He centralized the governments of his heterogeneous nationalities at Vienna and inaugurated important fiscal and commercial reforms, which soon won him the favor of the Austrian middle classes. He effected a concordat with the pope which conciliated his Roman Catholic subjects. He put down the Hungarian revolt.

In 1859 he had to fight France for his Italian possessions, and after the disastrous defeat of Solferino, where he commanded in person with great bravery, he lost Milan and northern Lombardy. The Schleswig-Holstein dispute following the spoliation of Denmark involved him with France again and with Germany. Sadowa cost Austria Venetia and eliminated her from German politics. But these catastrophes ended Francis Joseph's foreign complications for the time and left him free to attend to his domestic difficulties. He succeeded in reconciling the almost irreconcilable interests of Austria and Hungary, consummated the compromise under which the dual kingdom is still governed and about which there has lately been so much talk, promulgated a most liberal constitution, and on June 8, 1867, was crowned king of Hungary at Pest-Ofen with great pomp and ceremony. From that time, though constantly the center of a political whirlpool, he ruled his eccentric empire as an animal tamer controls his menagerie, using alternately force and diplomacy.

Domestic Troubles.

His youth, so saddened by the losses of territory which his ancestors had owned for ages, was further embittered by the efforts of his political enemies to cause trouble between him and his beautiful young wife, the Princess Elizabeth of Bavaria. They did succeed finally in effecting a separation of the emperor and empress, but it was only temporary. Throughout his life the "curse of the Hapsburgs" in the form of domestic tragedy pursued the proud emperor of Austria as a hunter stalks his prey. From that terrible day when his brother Maximilian, deserted by Louis Napoleon, who had made him emperor of Mexico, was shot down like a felon by the soldiers of Juarez and the Empress Carlotta came home a maniac Francis Joseph had been a man of sorrows, acquainted with grief. His cousin, the Archduke Salvator, ran off to sea, preferring the life of a common sailor to the exactions of the severest court in Christendom, and never was heard of again. His only son, the Crown Prince Rudolf, committed suicide in 1889 as the result of an unfortunate love affair. Then came the crowning stroke of misfortune. The Empress Elizabeth, adored by high and low as the imperial embodiment of all the virtues, was assassinated by an anarchist during a visit to Switzerland. More recently the scandalous elopement of the crown princess of Saxony, who was an Austrian archduchess, reopened the emperor's heart wounds, and the assassination of his nephew and heir, Archduke Francis Ferdinand, with the morganatic wife of the latter, the Duchess of Hohenberg, broke him down completely.

Death of Maximilian.

The tragic death of Maximilian was the one incident in his sorrowful career that the emperor was unable to forgive. Francis Joseph ever regarded Mexico as his brother's murderer. His gratitude to those who had shown mercy or pity to the ill-starred Maximilian was no less long lived. Every year—the emperor never forgot the date—a Mexican singer named Concha Mendez received a generous birthday gift from his majesty. With it went a note in the emperor's own hand expressing his grateful remembrance of the fact that when such a thing endangered her safety and almost her life she refused to ridicule the dead "emperor of Mexico." It was not long after the execution of Maximilian that Concha Mendez, the popular singer of the day, in the City of Mexico was asked to sing a song vilifying the late emperor and his unhappy spouse. Concha Mendez stopped short, and her black eyes flashed. "No," she said, "I shall not decry the dead and the unhappy," then left the stage before the audience had recovered from the surprise.

Outlined in the glare of tragedy Francis Joseph stood out as the most interesting and pathetic figure of European royalty.

Assassination of the Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his morganatic wife, the Duchess of Hohenberg, at Sarajevo, Bosnia, was the fourth time death either by suicide, assassination or military execution struck at him. Beloved by his people, with a love which at times held Europe from desperate war, the seared heart of the octogenarian ruler held strength enough to sustain still another blow.

Put in tabular form and chronological order, these were the four great tragedies of his life, the tragedies which have made the name of Hapsburg a synonym for misfortune.

Maximilian, emperor of Mexico, executed June 19, 1867, after defeat by revolutionists; brother.

Crown Prince Rudolf, died Jan. 30, 1889, by suicide or murder at Mayerling; son.

Elizabeth, empress of Austria, assassinated Sept. 10, 1898, at Geneva by anarchist; wife.

Other misfortunes flowed from these almost without number, making the record of sorrow which marked the family of Francis Joseph one almost without parallel either in ancient or modern history. One chronicler likens the history of the family to that of the Julio Claudians of Rome, known for their crimes and misfortunes.

All of this train of disaster is laid by the people of Austria-Hungary to a curse laid on Francis Joseph soon after he took the throne as a youth facing the country torn with revolt. Francis Joseph, the story runs, refused pardon to a son of the Countess Karolyi, who was condemned for participating in the Kossuth revolt in 1848.

At the very feet of the emperor Countess Karolyi's curse was spoken. Death, she screamed, should never come to the ruler until every one of his nearest and dearest should die by violence or in shame and disgrace, their lives forgotten unless the obloquy they gathered should keep their memory green.

The Princess Elizabeth, daughter of the unlucky Rudolf and granddaughter of Francis Joseph, insisted upon marrying Prince Otto of Windisch-Graetz, a mediocrity house. The marriage was much against the emperor's wishes, but he would not refuse his consent. After a few years of married life the princess, according to report current at the time, shot an actress to whom she found her husband paying attention.

A Democratic Ruler.

The head of one of the oldest reigning families and master of the most conventional of continental courts, Francis Joseph, while never relaxing his imperial dignity, was still the most democratic and kindest hearted of kings. Every year on Maundy Thursday the emperor showed his humility by following the example of Christ in washing the feet of his disciples. Twelve old men, paupers all, were brought to the palace on the Thursday before Easter, and the aged emperor personally served them with food and drink, then attended by high military and church officials, proceeded to each old man in turn, wet his feet, dried them and dismissed them with gifts.

Stern but kind ruler of a turbulent realm, a king made human by suffering, with all his faults he deserves the eulogy Mark Antony pronounced over the corpse of Brutus. "The elements were so mixed in him that Nature might stand up and say to all the world, This was a man."

During the Balkan war crisis the aged emperor's voice was constantly for peace, and it was no doubt due in great degree to his influence that all Europe was not plunged into war.

Many a man's religion consists of putting in a good word when the collection plate is passed.

ION-O-LEX UNGUENT

Probably the most important discovery that has been made in the field of medicine in fifty years.

COUGHS—COLDS—TONSILLITIS PNEUMONIA NEURITIS—ACUTE RHEUMATISM

Ion-o-lex Unguent is the discovery of an English scientist—it is used by many of the most prominent physicians in England—and also in the English military hospitals where it is proving wonderfully successful in cases of pneumonia, bronchitis and similar diseases.

Dr. J. H. Wilson, one of the most prominent of English physicians who has studied the use of Ion-o-lex in private practice and in the English military hospitals, writes of it: "A large number of cases of Acute Pneumonia and Bronchitis have now been treated with it, and in every one temperature has been reduced to normal within 24 hours, with rapid relief of symptoms."

Ion-o-lex Unguent is a household necessity—it is entirely harmless and is amazingly effective in cases of sore throat, croup, tonsillitis, acute rheumatism—and in furnishing almost instant relief in cases of burns, scalds, wounds, etc.

WOMAN AVOIDS OPERATION

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Washington, Nov. 22.—Scarcity of coal due to the war has driven the Dutch to the ash heaps for fuel. Consular reports today describe a method of grinding the refuse from furnaces and passing it through a liquid which separates that having fuel value from cinders and ashes. It is said that two thousand tons of refuse produces two thousand pounds of fuel.

Every one dreads the surgeon's knife and the operating table. Sometimes nothing else will do; but many times doctors say they are necessary when they are not. Letter after letter comes to the Pinkham Laboratory, telling how operations were advised and were not performed; or if performed, did no good, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was used and good health followed.

Astoria, N. Y. — "For two years I was feeling ill and took all kinds of tonics. I was getting worse every day. I had chills, my head would ache, I was always tired. I could not walk straight because of the pain in my back and I had pains in my stomach. I went to a doctor and he said I must go under an operation, but I did not. I read in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and told my husband about it. I said 'I know nothing will help me but I will try this.' I found myself improving from the very first bottle, and in two weeks time I was able to sit down and eat a hearty breakfast with my husband, which I had not done for two years. I am now in the best of health and did not have the operation." — Mrs. John A. Koenig, 502 Flushing Avenue, Astoria, N. Y.

ESTABLISHED IN 1820.

Newark, Ohio, under the Act of March 4, 1879.

Legislative Dignity.

The election of a woman member of Congress, representing the state of Montana, has given the newspaper paragraphs much material for discussion. The public of course will differ as to the significance of this event, according to whether one holds feminist views or not. But however one feels, it is to be hoped that women will be able to make some betterment in the manners of our law makers.

Congress has long been called the most unmanly of the world's great legislative bodies. Even if the visitor does not find the traditional feet up on the desks, he at least will see evidences of chewing tobacco, and hear much buzzing of conversation while members are trying to speak.

There is something wrong when there are but two or three dozen members out of a great house present to hear discussions. If the discussion is worthless, there should be some way to abridge it. If the debate has value, the House should be present to hear it.

The public does not take seriously either Congress or the State Legislatures. The law makers have themselves to blame for that. When a visitor enters the Capitol gallery at Washington, he feels a certain awe, reflecting that he is looking down on the greatest law making body of the world. But when he finds 19 out of the 20 members out of their seats and the rest inattentive, he is disappointed.

This is a short session country.
Our people are unconventional, they dislike formalities and fuss and feathers. But when a great historic body meets, it should conduct itself in a manner worthy of its ancient setting.

A state legislature may include many members that have no personal dignity of their own. But the body as a whole is a historic inheritance from the American pioneers.
It is the representative of the state power, its past history and aspirations for the future. Its sessions should be appropriate to all it stands for. Here is a field for the efforts of the women members.

Doing Humdrum Work.

The high price of all kinds of labor is changing many people's views about work. Formerly a great many women felt as if it was almost degrading to do any housework in their own homes. Or at least they felt that such tasks were so menial and routine that a bright and clever person ought not to be expected to perform them. Her brains were supposed to be worth more somewhere else.

But if one of these women has to pay 25 cents an hour to get a floor scrubbed, very likely by some raw immigrant who can't speak English, she begins to think whether she could not do it herself and use the money for things she wants to buy. When she takes hold of such household tasks, she finds it is not so much drudgery as she thought.

Much of this domestic work is really a science calling for judgment and experience. Good cookery is one of the most highly prized arts. Once a woman gets interested in it, she finds that it has the fascinations of any work that calls for skill and discretion. There may be as much satisfaction in baking good bread or roasting meat in a way to preserve the flavor and the juices and win the applause of the home circle as in reading a paper before the Woman's club.

Women who do thus return to these more primitive and natural instincts find themselves with a feeling of independence they had not previously enjoyed. It is a satisfaction to be relieved from the endless friction that follows the keeping of servants.

Men also feel the high cost of getting any kind of work done. It is not so cheap to get lawns mowed, offices and stores swept out, furnaces and stoves tended, as it used to be. The boy who used to do chores and run errands at five cents an hour has grown up. His Fishing Horses.

(Los Angeles Times.)

Along Albermarle Sound on the North Carolina coast, there is mile after mile of low, sandy shore, where nothing grows except a coarse grass,
a few saltwater weeds and wild parsley. On these banks lives a strange breed of half-wild horses, known as "banker ponies." These creatures are generally about twice the size of Shetland ponies.

Every year the herd-owners drive the "bankers" into pens, brand the foals with the proper mark, and catch some of the older animals to sell to the dealers. North Carolinians say that the beasts must be starved into eating grain, hay or grass, for they have always lived on the rank marsh grass of the marshes and on fish.

They catch the fish themselves at low tide; with their hoofs they dig deep holes in the sand below high-water mark; when the tide falls they greedily devour the fish that are stranded in these holes. Often they fight briskly over an especially tempting morsel.

In captivity these strange horses are intelligent, but seldom are even in temper. Once tamed, they make excellent draft animals, for they have a strength that is disproportionate to their size. Foals that are bred from "bankers" in captivity make valuable animals—strong, healthy, intelligent and far less vicious than their parents.

Daddy's Bedtime

Story—A BOTTLE RETURNED TO ITS OWN COUNTRY

[Adapted from Hans Christian Andersen.]

THE children finished their baked apples and gingerbread men. Then daddy sat down and told them a bedtime story: "Once upon a time, after traveling for many, many years, a nice old bottle got filled with seed corn and was sent back to its own country.

"After being away from home a long time it is always delightful to get back. For the first time in years the bottle understood every word that was said. This is how it knew it was home. 'How well packed this old bottle is!'
some one said. And with joy in his heart the bottle heard the same tongue that was spoken at the smelting furnace where it was born, at the wine merchant's, where it was sold to go on a betrotal picnic, and on the ship that was wrecked and from which it had been washed by the waves on to foreign coasts.

"So to hear its own language spoken made it so happy that it almost sprang out of the hands of the man that held it. It hardly noticed that its cork was being drawn. The man shook it well to hurry out the seed corn in it. And, empty again, our bottle was tucked away in a cellar, forgotten.

"There is no place like home, even if it be a cellar. It never occurred to the bottle to think how long it lay there, but it did lie there comfortably for many years. Then one day some people came down to clean out the cellar and, along with many others, took away our bottle.

"In the garden outside everything was very merry, and some kind of a festival was going on. There were festoons of lamps and transparent paper lanterns like tulips. The evening was clear and lovely. Stars shone brightly, and a slim crescent moon was just up. In fact, the whole moon was to be seen, like a pale gray globe with a gold rim on one half of it. It was a beautiful sight for any bottle that had been away from its own country so many years.

"In all the side paths of the garden there were also some pretty lanterns hanging, so that any one might see his way about. All along the hedges were rows of bottles with lighted candles stuck in them, and among them was placed our bottle.

"The bottle was delighted to be in the woods again and making merry once more. It heard music and singing all around and the hum and buzz of happy voices."

Then daddy looked at the clock and kissed the children good night.

THE MODERN MOSES

The Advocate's
MELTING POT

The chains of habit are generally too small to be felt until they are too strong to be broken.—Samuel Johnson.

It must be a great strain on a woman's power of self-restraint to pay thirty dollars for a switch, and then keep quiet about it in an effort to prove that it grew there.—New York Evening Sun.

Which probably proves, if anything, that a woman finds it easier to keep a secret on the outside of her head than on the inside.

Isn't It the Truth?

Our daily tasks we should not shrink,
Nor should we try to stall;
But some of us have too much work,
And some have none at all.
—Luke McLuke.

Let not this thought your gladness
mar,
Go to it like a Turk!
For doing nothing is, by far,
The hardest kind of work.

Aunt Caline Says:

I went into the Post office yesterday to get our Advocate an' jest ahead o' me at the window was a tall slack bilt man with terrible red hair
and big brown freckles all over him, leastwise over as much of him as you could see, him
havin' on a few clo'es consistin' of an' gingham shirt
an' overhauls. I heered him say,
"Gimme my mail."
"Name, please,"
says Iva Hart,
which is postmist-
ress jest a-glanc-
in' up from a postal card which
she was a-readin'.
The man got a dull brick red an'
his eyes flashed as he says, "Some folks air too curious fer words. My name," says he, "will be writ onto my mail," he says. "It is probable it is wrote onto the back o' that there postage card you air a-readin'
with such intrust," he says.

Our daily tasks we should not shrink,
Nor should we try to stall;
But some of us have too much work,
And some have none at all.

Eat Slowly And You'll Eat Less
Says Chicago Girl

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Chicago, Nov. 22.—Twelve employees of the Chicago health department today began a two weeks experiment intended to demonstrate that a person can live properly on 40 cents a day.

At the first meal, breakfast, served at 8:20 o'clock, Dr. John D.
Robertson, health commissioner, directed the "diet squad" to learn to eat slowly asserting that "the faster you eat, the more you eat." Forty minutes was allowed for breakfast, the menu for which consisted of fresh apples, liver, bacon, one egg, muffin, butter and coffee.

Each dieter was pledged to deny himself all nourishment except the meals prepared at the school of domestic arts and sciences. Doctor Robertson announced, however, that they might drink water, chew gum and smoke, if they desire.

The experiment is attracting wide attention, especially among physicians and economists, numbers of whom have asked for specimen menus and reports of progress.

Six men and six women are making the test. Throughout the two weeks they will pursue their regular vocations in an attempt to keep conditions as nearly normal as possible.
At the outset the weight of the wom-

I never held a four-flush fair,
And drew one card to fill it.
But some one had a little pair
Quite big enough to kill it.

We never try, my Ford and I,
To keep ahead or bust,
But what some blamed fool puts on Till their love turned to poison and
And covers us with dust.

Did You Know

That lead pencils are not made of lead at all but of graphite? In ancient times lead was used for marking on papyrus and because of this fact lead pencils are probably so called. The manufacture of graphite pencils began in England in the sixteenth century, when a valuable mine of pure graphite was found at Barrowdale, Cumberland. This mine became exhausted in 1850, and afterwards powdered graphite mixed with clay was used. Graphite is now mined at Schwartzbach, Bohemia; at Passau, Bavaria; at Ticonderoga, N.
Y., and in other parts of the United States. In the manufacture of pencils, powdered graphite is mixed with pipe clay, the quantity depending on the degree of hardness required.
For hard pencils they are mixed in equal parts, and for ordinary writing pencils the proportions are seven parts of clay to ten parts of graphite.

In the dim light they sat tete-a-tete,
Now Limerick podes, please relate,
What then did betide:
Did they sit side by side Till their love turned to poison and hate?

Write us your idea of the matter
(in Limerick form, of course) send it to the Melting Pot not later than six o'clock Friday evening, November 24th; the one the editor considers best will win a dollar. All those that pass the censor will be published in the Advocate. Begin

OPEN SHORT COURSE
FOR OHIO FARMERS
AT UNIVERSITY.

Making it possible for farm men and boys to attend the College of Agriculture at the Ohio State University, Columbus, an eight-weeks course in agriculture will be conducted at that institution from January 2 to February 23. The course is open to men and boys of any age who have had farm experience. Last year men of 37 years sat beside boys of 17 listening to the lectures so that they might operate their farm more efficiently.

Bulletins which are now being sent to any address show that the course includes practically all the lines of agriculture from breeding and feeding of livestock, dairying, horticulure, poultry husbandry, farm mechanics, floriculture, and soil fertility to veterinary medicine. Recent additions to the college buildings make it possible to provide laboratory practice for all courses.

In addition, a lecture at 4 p. m.
on each day is planned for the students who enter. These are to be given by well-informed men engaged in farming on a commercial scale and officials from the Ohio Agricultural Experiment station.

HOME TREATMENT
FOR SORE THROAT

Sore throats, with their attending evils of acute discomfort, racking coughs, and sometimes fatal weakening of the system, are the curse of the northern races.
Yet people too often accept them as Mohammedans accept the plague, without effort to cure or to prevent. Since sore throats are the work of germs, they can,
however, be easily prevented and relieved at home.

All that is necessary is to kill the germs that cause the raw feeling of the membranes and often cause annoying accumulations of phlegm which must be partially cleared away by those convul-sive efforts of the lungs which go by the name of coughing.

The most efficient, economical and safe germicide for the purpose can be made at home by simply adding five to ten drops of Hyclorite to a glass of water.
This Hyclorite watershould be used as a thorough gargle for the raw throat in which the germs have made their home, or as a preventive gargle at the first symptoms of a cold in the throat.

Hyclorite will do the work more efficiently than any of the many germicides now on the market. It is a solution of sodium hypochlorite. A U. S. government report has been published showing that 130 antiseptics were recently tested in the military hospitals of Europe and sodium hypochlorite declared by the surgeons to be the most economical and effective of them all.

Although many times more powerful than the harmful antiseptics which contain poisons, acids, mercury or dangerous preservatives, Hyclorite is even safer than the weak and ineffective peroxides. It is clean and harmless as water —but powerful. Any druggist can supply Hyclorite in 25 and 50 cent bottles.

Practical Economy

Baking powders made from alum or phosphate may be bought for a trifle less than Royal Baking Powder, which is made from cream of tartar, derived from grapes.

Alum powders are not only cheap, but they differ greatly in leavening power.

If a cheap baking powder is used for a fine cake and the cake turns out a failure there is a waste of costly materials worth more than a whole can of the cheap baking powder.

Royal Baking Powder produces the finest food, and its use therefore, results in an actual saving.

Granville

(Special to The Advocate.)

Granville, Nov. 22.—The Tuesday all-day meeting for the benefit of the A. F. W. has become firmly established as the one engagement during the week that must not be broken. Yesterday saw a record-breaking crowd in the rooms, and work was begun on pyjamas for which there is such need. Besides these there were 18 complete comfort pillows, 2 Peter Coopers, and 1 bushel of clippings. Two dollars were received from Mr. John Geach, one dollar from Mr. Addie McClean, Franklin, O., and one dollar from Mrs. W. C. Sheppard of Grand Rapids, Mich., who with her sister, Miss Robinson, and Mrs. Collins of Cincinnati visited the rooms yesterday. A box containing ten comfort bags all ready for the trenches, was received from the Swastika Sewing club of young girls of Newark. The Library Extension committee reported that in some way the Triangle films showing the American Ambulance corps in action would be put on in Granville some time soon. Mr. Thomas A. Jones, G. A. R., visited the rooms and put all the sewing machines into first class order free of charge, a favor highly appreciated.

Center Star lodge, F. and A. M., No. 11, held a special session last evening for work in the E. A. degree. In the social rooms of the Baptist church this afternoon, the parents of the primary Sunday school scholars are being entertained with a thimble party by the teachers of the department from 3 to 5 o'clock. The Fortnightly club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Everett Johnston in East Broadway Tuesday evening, November 21, when the following program was enjoyed: "Federation and Scholarship," by Mrs. E. E. Wright, "Vocational Training," by Mrs. E. H. Hammond, "The Marking of American Citizens," by Mrs. C. W. Henderson. The musical offerings were a charming addition being a vocal duet by Mrs. Johnston and Mrs. Detweiler, and two Welsh songs by Miss Evangeline Davies, with Mrs. Lovell and Miss Rockwood as accompanists. Light refreshments were served during the social hour the guests of the evening being: Mrs. E. E. Hopkins, Mrs. Clifford Case and Mrs. Detweiler.

The Beethoven recital this evening at 7:45 in Recital Hall, promises a rare treat to music lovers. This is one of the delightful historical series to which the public is invited. Holders of course tickets should have them in readiness for the great "Message from Mars," by Newens tomorrow evening. Those who neglected to provide themselves with season tickets can still do so, to one great advantage. Everybody in the community will rush for the box office for the Mosqueros flag, for Newens an deserved extra-ordinary attractions booked and nothing will be so economical as a course ticket.

Milady's Boudoir

Hats and Colds. "I often wonder how I manage to catch so many colds," complained Mrs. Up-to-date dresser. "I am always careful to wear my rubbers on these stormy days, and yet I am always sniffing and blowing. I can't understand it."

"Maybe your feet are properly dressed but your head is not at all," said the doctor.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles. If you have coated, bitter, or acrid tongue, coated, appetite poor, fatty, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, troubled with undigested foods, you should take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without gripping, cramps or pain. Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief, so you can eat what you like. At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

ways cared for, replied Mrs. Common Sense, "for instance, I saw you yesterday with your fur hat on, and today you are wearing a mere covering of gold lace and wire. Surely it is colder today than yesterday."

And Mrs. Common Sense was right. So many of us are careful about our throats being protected, and our feet dry, but we carelessly change our hats without a thought. No two hats are very often alike in weight. A velvet hat that fits the head closely is warmer than a flaring brimmed one of silk. A fur hat is warmer than lace and so it goes.

Today we took our head into a fur toque, and spend most of our time in the hot stores, and tomorrow we go to a bridge party wearing the lace one. Donning the early straw hat after wearing the heavy velvet and fur ones is indeed a dangerous feat, and is usually followed by a disagreeable head cold. Care should be taken in the choice of the hats to suit the weather as well as any articles of our wardrobe.

For Red Nose. Does Madam's nose's precious nose odor resemble a glorious American Beauty rose in color? Maybe it is not the effect of the cold weather, but a plain case of indigestion which is a prime factor in producing the undesirable color.

You may detect this symptom by noting if the nose becomes red and swollen. Rich foods which tax the digestion organs must be avoided, or those which, while wholesome for others are poisonous for you.

For example, the luscious strawberry is quite impossible for some persons, and shortly after eating even a few the nose assumes a similar hue and a rash breaks out over the skin, accompanied by a dreadful itching sensation.

And when madam's nose must begin to diet, even though she deprives herself of many delicacies she loves. All stimulants, including tea and coffee are blacklisted. Simple, but none the less palatable foods easy of digestion and assimilation, should be chosen.

Dieting is the only remedy, and it is the toll for eating things that the palate craves, but the stomach loathes.

For Chapped Hands. With the crisp days that bring roses to the cheeks, and the heart glad with the zest of winter comes the old problem of keeping the hands soft and white and presentable. In the summer time unless one worries about tan and freckles, manicuring is the only hand treatment to think about, but in winter the danger of roughened and reddened skin returned.

If the hands have become rough and unsightly, a simple home remedy is the quickest way out of the difficulty. Soak half a pound of oatmeal in a half quart of water for twelve hours, strain off the water, add a teaspoonful of ammonia, a teaspoonful of olive oil and a few drops of glycerine. Rub this into the hands at night before they are thoroughly washed and rinsed. Then slip on an old pair of gloves, which have the finger tips cut off. It would be well to follow up this treatment for two or three weeks until the hands have regained their natural whiteness and softness. Be sure to keep them out of very hot water, and most important of all, try to dry them thoroughly whenever they have been washed.

Every Day Etiquette

"When sending a dinner invitation in the form of a note to a husband and wife, whose name should be on the envelope?" asked Rose.

"The envelope should be addressed to the wife alone," answered her mother.

"Is it improper for a man to raise his hat and speak to a woman before she speaks to him?" asked Jack.

"If the woman is an old friend he is at liberty to raise his hat and greet her, but other wise he should wait until he has received some sign of recognition from the woman," said his father.

"When making a social call, how long should I stay?" asked Betty.

"Social calls last from fifteen to twenty minutes. It may be prolonged only upon the urgent invitation of the hostess," advised her sister.

Stormy Debate. Chief of McIntosh's Clan (indignantly to cabby, after a dispute over the fare)—How dare you speak to me like that? Do you know I'm the McIntosh?

The people of Newark, who have not had the privilege of visiting the new Hotel Deshler in Columbus, may have that opportunity Thanksgiving Eve, November 29, through invitations issued in this community, to the annual Charity Ball, of the Pleasure Guild of the Children's Hospital of Columbus.

The Ball is held annually to provide funds for the Pleasure Guild, with which to carry on its share of the work of caring for the children of Central Ohio, who are in immediate need of medical and surgical attention.

It is the only hospital of this character in Ohio, and cares for all the cases that come to the attention of the State Board of Charities and Juvenile Court. Patients from counties outside of Franklin are charged a nominal fee.

The Charity Ball has become one of the society events of Central Ohio. In previous years it has been given in Memorial Hall, or some other large auditorium, but this year advantage is taken of the splendid ballroom offered by the new Hotel Deshler, which is one of the finest between New York and Chicago.

The list of patrons and patronesses is large and includes the most prominent men and women of Columbus and this section of the state. An "acquaintance committee" consisting of prominent Columbus men has been appointed to see that all visiting guests are introduced.

Our Boys and Girls

For a small sum, a little bed can be made that is pretty, comfortable and occupies none of the floor space in a small bedroom.

Get a store box about three feet long, a foot and a half wide and a foot deep. Have a blacksmith fasten two strong iron hooks securely on one side. Then paint with two coats of enamel paint; pink, white and blue.

Fasten a full tulle of dotted muslin edged with lace around it, and tie a ribbon bow in the color used to one corner. Make a little pillow and mattress to fit it.

When fastened on the foot of the bed it makes it possible for the mother to give baby his night nursing without getting out of bed, which is a blessing in winter.

A little girl I know, has an allowance of twenty-five cents a week for spending money from an aunt. She has been provided with a small cheque book and bank deposit slips, and on receiving her allowance, makes out a deposit slip and deposits the money with her aunt, who has instituted herself "The Trust Company."

When Betty wishes to spend any amount, however small, she writes a cheque and her aunt cashes it. She keeps an account book and her bank book are balanced monthly.

She feels much interested in these business transactions, and in this way is learning to keep both bank and personal accounts. I think it is a valuable training for any child ten years, perhaps even younger.

In dressing my small son, who used to dread the ordeal, I have found a method that hurries him through without the word "hurry" even once being used.

When it comes time for underwear, rompers, etc., the right foot (and hand) is called "Prince" and the left foot (and hand) is "Queen" and there is a great hurry to get the horses into the stalls.

"Boy" now takes such an interest in dressing that he came to me yesterday with "Prince" and "Queen" are all in their stalls, and I find he has learned at three years of age, to put his rompers on himself, though they are really little confusing sometimes to grown-ups.

WORRY IS A DISEASE

The disorder which causes its victims to worry about or not to be nervous. Neurasthenia is entirely distinct from hysteria although the patient may have both diseases at the same time. Neurasthenia often results from some nervous shock, such as the loss of a near relative, business reverses, or some severe overstrain on the nervous system. The patient is usually pale, showing that the blood is thin, and the first thing to do is to build up the blood because anything that builds up the general health helps to correct the neurasthenic condition. Rest and a good tonic is the very best treatment in most cases.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an ideal tonic for this condition because they are non-alcoholic and neurasthenic patients should avoid alcoholic stimulants. The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. ### Amusements

AUDITORIUM.

Leroy, Talma and Bosco, programmed as the great triumvirate of Arabian Night entertainers, together with their company of clever assistants, gave an excellent performance at the Auditorium last evening. LeRoy is one of the most clever magicians on the stage today and his various tricks and feats of magic were more than mystifying. The various illusions or deceptions in which men and women were made to vanish and then reappear in other parts of the theatre are unexplainable.

The Hindu rope trick was also bewildering. Le Roy made a rope ascend from the floor of the stage up into the wings and then had a boy climb the rope. The magician then placed a cloth about the boy and let him slide part way down the rope. The cloth was then pulled from what was apparently the boy but there was nothing there at all.

In all there were twenty-five acts, the performance concluding with an illusionary sketch entitled "Nero or Thrown to the Lions." A girl is thrown into a lions' cage in full view of the audience. LeRoy at the same time produces a puff of smoke which hangs in the air for the fraction of a second and a big African lion which had been roaring and prancing in Ireland a hundred years ago at a time when rebellion against British rule was in active ferment. "Dare O'Connell is a leader of the malcontents in the plot there is just enough of Irish rebellion to give the comedy a tinge of the dramatic. But Shameen Dhu was not conceived in a serious vein for it is a mythical comedy assisted in charm by catchy Irish songs of that always appealing kind that deal with love. Clifford Hipple is a young actor who infuses into his impersonation of this typical Irishman a personality that wins for him favor from an audience. He gains attention by his presence and wins full favor when he sings, for he has a well cultivated baritone voice. Shameen Dhu is a story of Ireland as it was in the early colonial days. Its scenes are of the land of the shamrock, and we see the quaint dress and stately manners of the long ago. It has been well named a story of love, laughter and song, and its theme is clear and wholesome. Why not then pay ones respects to this lively singing Irishman? Seats now selling.

"Revue of 1917."

Meeting the requirements for the present day of Hawaiian music and atmosphere, Manager Henry P. Dixon, whose Big Revue of 1917 is to be the next welcome Wheel attraction at the Auditorium, Monday, matinee and night, has provided a typical novelty in this particular

DODY MORRIS

With the Big Revue of 1917, at the Auditorium, Monday.

ing in its cage a second before had completely disappeared and in its cage was the girl unharmed.

The entertainment was enjoyed by a large audience and it is safe to predict that should the company ever visit this city in the future it will be greeted by a capacity audience.

"Mister 44."

Today the Auditorium offers the big Metro scenic production "Mister 44" with those two sterling Metro stars, Harold Lockwood and May Allison. These two artists are so well known to Newark picture fans, that it is hardly necessary to say too much of their ability.

"Mister 44" is from the novel by E. J. Rath. It was a Rath novel that "The River of Romance" was founded upon and if you have seen that great Metro wonderplay you can understand stand fully the importance of our claim that "Mister 44" is still bigger and still better. Should a girl marry a man above her station in life is one of the big themes in this wonderful feature and none should miss seeing this. This feature together with the fifth episode of "The Crimson Stain Mystery" with Maurice Costello and Ethel Grandin, will make up a program that is one of the best that the Auditorium has screened in many a day.

THIS IS THE LIFE.
At the Kozy.

Shameen Dhu.

All the world is said to love a lover. This can well apply when that lover is a handsome dashing young Irishman of ready wit and fearless manner. Such a one is "Dare O'Connell" the Irish poet patriot played by Clifford Hipple in the three-act Irish romance, Shameen Dhu set down for presentation at the Auditorium next Friday. The several scenes of the play are laid line. Twenty of the prettiest and withal most shapely girls will be seen and heard in a special song depicting the gayety and life of the famous Island of the Pacific. They will cavort, dance, gyrate and prance in resplendent Hawaiian costume, in which novel treatment of lyrics and melody will be employed. This feature is destined to be encoored at each performance and mark the advancement of modern burlesque and up-to-date theatrical entertainment. Another item sure to be acclaimed is a Japanese number. The music of this song is said to be the prettiest and withal catchiest heard in many seasons. For this innovation special costumes also have been provided. The fun, wit and comedy, essentially foremost in any production catering to a certain class of public, is up to the standard, if not a notch or two above the ordinary. James J. Morton and Felix Adler, ably assisted by Mr. Dixon himself, have furnished the book, and from all accounts is the best that has been turned out in years. Space prevents us from dilating on the many other good things harbored in the production. Suffice to say the Big Revue of 1917 is far better, greater and more pretentious than its predecessors, which is announcing a lot when it is considered that this particular organization has weathered ten years of unflinching success. Seats on sale Friday.

ALHAMBRA.

"The Hidden Scar." Visit the Alhambra theatre tonight and see for yourself just who is responsible for the near-wrecking of a previously happy home. This is an "unusual" story. Ethel Clayton and Holbrook Blinn are the stars.

"Most cleverly handled and finest action photo-play I've had in my theatre for six months," was the comment of one manager after witnessing the first performance of "The Hidden Scar," the new Brady-Made World Picture, featuring Ethel Clayton and Holbrook Blinn, which will be the attraction at the Alhambra theatre tonight and tomorrow.

With an exceptionally strong theme chosen for the plot of the story, the masterful manner in which each succeeding complication has been presented and the unlooked-for "twist" which marks the climax are sure to be appreciated by every thoughtful audience.

Unprotected.

"Unprotected" has been selected as the title of the next Paramount picture in which the beautiful Lasky star, Blanche Sweet, will be seen at the Alhambra on Friday and Saturday. As Barbara King, a fine young artist, sentenced for murder, and leased out for convict labor in a southern turpentine camp, Miss Sweet has a role entirely different from any of the many in which she has heretofore appeared. A special cast has been selected to support her, including such prominent artists as Tom Forman, Theodore Roberts, Ernest Joy, Walter Long, Mrs. Lewis McCord, Robert Gray and Jane Wolff.

25 Years Ago

(From Advocate, Nov. 22, 1891.) Hon. M. R. Scott, of Newark, late editor of a newspaper and still later a justice of the peace, has come out as an author, and will shortly issue a novel entitled "Henry River."

The book is nearly off the press, and is quite likely to create a sensation when it comes before the public. Friday evening a very delightful surprise was arranged by the many friends of Mrs. Joe Drake of Gay street it being her twenty-sixth natal anniversary. Progressive euchre and dancing were the features of the evening.

M. Q. Baker has gone to New York to buy some new goods. Showman and Burch the Fourth street produce dealers have dissolved partnership. Mr. Showman will continue business at the old stand, however, and have turkeys, chickens, etc., for Thanksgiving.

15 YEARS AGO TODAY.

Hunter, took place last evening at the bride's home on Buena Vista street. Mr. and Mrs. Upham left for Detroit this morning where they will make their home.

John Lamb, who has been quite sick at his home is considerably improved at this writing.

Mrs. Mary E. Baugher entertained Thursday in honor of her son, Mr. Emmet M. Baugher and his bride. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Jas. A. Huchings of Kansas City, Judge and Mrs. C. W. Seward, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Seward, Mr. and Mrs. W. Holman, Mr. and Mrs. W. Seward, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Johnson, Mrs. Thomas Suter, Mrs. M. C. Legge, Mrs. Sophia Baugher, Misses Orha, Bessie and Ruby Seward, Kathryn Suter, Ettie Baugher, Ann Bell, Josephine and James Seward of Indiana.

CONLEY ARRIVES FOR BOWSER BOUT THURSDAY NIGHT

Metro Confident of Tearing up Ed Reed, When They Clash in Semi-Windup Match.

Ed Conley, middleweight wrestler of Cleveland, who meets Paul Bowser, world's middleweight wrestling champion, at the Auditorium Thursday night, arrived in Newark yesterday noon. Conley is a large man and gives the impression of being a hard man to put to the mat. He inquired about Bowser's ability of the matches he had won and who he had met since coming here. Then he stated that he did not believe the local man's famous toe hold would play any part in Thursday night's decision. "The toe hold is a mighty effective means of gaining a fall," Conley said, "but when it is not applied, it can do little damage. And I believe that I can successfully evade the hold, and at the same time show Bowser my favorite which has brought home many bacons."

CHARLES METRO.

But the fans will have to be shown, because they have seen too many grapplers fall beneath Bowser's powerful weapon.

The semi-windup between Charles Metro and Ed Reed, who claims to be the "flying Dutchman," of Akron, will be a bout worth giving up business and other diversions to witness. Of Reed, little is known, aside from the fact that he came here several weeks ago and sought a match with Bowser. He claims that he is a wrestler of note, but refuses to divulge his true name.

To Metro, the "terrible Turk" has been given the honor of mugging up Mr. Reed and the two will clash in a finished bout just before the Bowser-Conley go. The Turk claims he will win the decision, no matter how tough Reed proves to be and is working hard every day to get into the best condition possible.

The advance ticket sale is a fair indication that the fans want to see this all-star double attraction, as the seats are selling at a rapid rate.

FITZ TEAM PLAYS AT MT. VERNON IN SUNDAY GAME

The Fitzsimmons football team came out of the game last Sunday with the Zanesville Marks in fine condition, with the possible exception of Kuster who was considerably mugged up early in the game but continued until the end of the first half when he retired in favor of Frenier, but he will be back on the Fitz line again next Sunday.

The Fitz team is starting on a schedule which they hope will eventually end when they meet the McDaniel team in a battle for the city championship. Boasting of a faster backfield than the Macs and with Archie Davis and Joe Dennison on the ends, the Fitzsimmons supporters are ready to back their prizes to the limit when the two teams meet in the one supreme battle.

Realizing that they are conceding weight from ten to thirty five pounds to the man they maintain that their speed will offset this handicap and bring to them the city championship.

The Fitz team will travel to Mt. Vernon next Sunday where they meet the team of that place in a game at the Mt. Vernon fair grounds. The team will practice this evening at the corner of West Main and Sixth streets. Captain McManus requests the following players to report: Johnny McCarty, Hinger, Gilbert, Kuster, Jimmy McCarty, H. Conlon, A. Conlon, Goodwin, Murphy, Davis, Frenier, Harris, A. Dennison, Schimpf and McManus. Practice will begin at 7:30 p. m.

ICE TENNIS IS NOW PROPOSED; OLD RULES USED

New York, Nov. 22.—Tennis on ice with prominent players participating and a possible championship within the next year is planned by Frederick B. Alexander. Davis cup veteran and lawn tennis player of international reputation. Several years ago an ice tennis match was played in which Alexander and other well known tennis players took part and considerable interest was aroused.

The same rules that govern lawn tennis apply to ice tennis. The court will be laid out in black paint on the ice surface but because of the additional height skates give a player it is probable that the net will be slightly raised. It is claimed that the ball does not skid on the ice to a much more pronounced degree than it does in play on the board floors in armories and clubs. The players are able to employ all the cuts known to the outdoor game.

TWO YALE PLAYERS IN BAD CONDITION; FANS ARE WORRIED

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 22.—With the Harvard game only a few days away, Yale football supporters are somewhat concerned over the physical condition of Captain Black and Quarterback Smith, two of the most valuable players on the eleven. Black has been in the infirmary suffering from a touch of tonsillitis and a fever and Smith is recovering from the same ailment.

Black expected to practice today, but there was doubt whether the physicians would allow him to play until tomorrow. Smith was expected to work out yesterday but he appeared on the field in civilian dress.

Coach Jones planned to send the regulars against the scrubs for the only scrimmage of the week this afternoon. In order to thoroughly accustom the men to new plays night signal drill will be held in the base ball cage until Friday. Motion pictures of the Princeton game will also be exhibited to show faults displayed in that contest.

HARVARD'S HARD WORK FOR YALE GAME IS ENDED

Cambridge, Mass. Nov. 22.—With the hard work of the preparation of the Harvard football team for its game against Yale next Saturday ended, today was given over to concerted encouragement of the players by the undergraduates. It was arranged that the students, headed by the Harvard regiment band, should march to the stadium late in the afternoon to watch a light workout by the squad and to practice songs and cheers for the game. Tonight Coach Percy D. Haughton and Captain H. H. Dabmon will address a mass meeting of students at the Harvard union.

The Crimson lineup remained unsettled today.

NEW PLANT FOR NEW YORK CLUB NOW PROPOSED

Chicago, Nov. 22.—President B. B. Johnson of the American League is on his way to French Lick, Ind., today for the purpose of holding a conference with Jacob Ruppert and H. T. Huston, owners of the New York Americans, regarding the location of a new park for the club. The American league club has a lease on the Polo grounds for the season of 1917 and according to Mr. Johnson no attempt will be made to assemble a new plant until 1918.

McDANIELS WILL HAVE HARD FIGHT IN COMING GAME

Dennison Pan Handles and McDaniel Game Sunday Afternoon at Wehrle Park Will be Hummer.

The McDaniel football team on next Sunday afternoon at Wehrle park, will meet one of the strongest football aggregations in the state, when it clashes with the heavy Pan Handles of Dennison, O.

The downstaters have met some of the best teams in the state and on no occasion have their opponents been able to tear up the Pan Handles' defense. The team is heavy and each player exceptionally speedy. Team work plays an important part also as the team has been together several seasons and each player is in condition at all times to stand a terrific battle.

The locals, however, are not worrying because of being outweighed, as they feel confident that with Thull and Hughes, the two Mansfield stars in the backfield, the visitors will have a tough job stopping them. Metro, the Turk wrestler may get in Sunday's contest along with Bowser, which will greatly strengthen the Mac's defense.

The game will be called at 2:30 o'clock and a record breaking crowd is expected as local football followers are acquainted with the reputation of the Dennison Pan Handles.

CUP OF SALT BRINGS $2.
 Correcting the misconception held by many that Alaska is a region of ice and snow, Dr. E. S. Sherman, in a recent talk before the Pharmaceutical Club of The Ohio State University, said that all kinds of berries, fruits and vegetables are raised along the coast, which does not have a cold climate.

"Mining and salmon canning are the main industries of Alaska," he said. "The white people in Alaska are chiefly from the Western part of the United States and the Alaskan towns resemble those of the Western states. The gold fever strikes booming towns and changes them overnight. At one place where gold prospectors rushed in, the scarcity of food boosted prices until $9 bought six cups of flour and $2 one cup of salt."

Too Delicate.
 A man traveling in Maine met a middle-aged farmer, who said his father, ninety years old, was still on the farm where he was born.

"What's the matter with him?" "I dunno; sometimes I think farmin' don't agree with him."—Western Christian Advocate.

Hubby—"You mean that maiden with the blue eyes, blond hair, ruby lips, deep dimples, and graceful carriage."

Wife—"Oh, you needn't mind. I intended to go to town myself today."—The Froth.

IS WONDERFULLY

GOOD FOR AILING LITTLE FOLKS

Nerv-Worth's Power to Help Them Affirmed by Two Grateful Mothers.

The use of Nerv-Worth for children whose weakness and ill health are due to nervous ailments is giving this great family tonic more and more popularity every day.

Two mothers, living in or near Zanesville have made telling signed statements to this effect. Here is the first one:

Nerv-Worth Co.—We read your advertisement in the paper and determined to try your Nerv-Worth for our little girl, who is 7 years old. She was afflicted with bed-wetting and nervousness. She was so bad she could not talk well. We gave her one and a half bottles (of Nerv-Worth) and she improved wonderfully. She can talk well now and she has tilted out and gained in flesh. We are all taking it now as it has proved a wonderful help to all the family.

MRS. JOHN DIETENBECK.
 And here is the second:
 Nerv-Worth Co.—For some time past our boy, who is 11 years old, was troubled with nervousness. He had a very poor appetite and was restless at night.

We gave him two bottles of Nerv-Worth and he got better at once. HE IS STRONG AND WELL NOW and can eat and sleep fine.

MRS. CLARA C. DUDLEY.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to flush Kidneys if Bladder bothers you—Drink lots of water.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. "This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water-drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Common garden Sage and Sulphur makes streaked, faded or gray hair dark and youthful at once.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

FOR A BAD COUGH

Here is a fine old-fashioned recipe for coughs, colds or catarrh trouble that has been used for many years with great success. Get from your druggist 1 oz. of Peppermint (Double Strength) and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful 4 times a day.

No more racking your whole body with a cough. Cleared nostrils should open, air passes, and your head clear up. It is as easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has a stubborn cough, or hard cold or catarrh in any form should give this prescription a trial. T. J. Evans—Adv.

THE ONLY THINGS

We Carry With Us Into the Next World are Those We Give Away In This.

Editor of The Advocate:—

A word as to the escrow fund. In August, last, Zanesville heroically put itself to the task of raising funds for its new Bethesda hospital. Street cars and automobiles blazoned the fact, banners with appealing mottoes, floated everywhere. Clergymen in their pulpits emphasized that Our Lord, when upon earth, went about healing the sick. That He said to his hearers, "I was sick and ye came unto me."

People of diverse nationalities, diverse creeds, diverse conditions, in life entered into the project heart and hand. On opening night all classes mingled on a common ground promoting with pride to this room or that as furnished by "Our Church," "Our Club," "Our Family." Happiness was in the air because the city had gotten out of itself, in the plan to help others, and since we are speaking of Zanesville who has not seen its fine public library, housed in its own building, standing near its high school furnishing aid and inspiration and bountifully supported by the city?

During the Spanish war the "Rough Riders" had one craving above all others; for what think you? For reading matter. The thirst for books, do you know what it is?

The newspaper, however, exalted its tone, is not sufficient. It was Emerson who said that the newspaper was made for everybody so only the part that fitted us was of value to us.

The true teacher instills into her pupils the love of literature. Where are they to find it? The public library is in most cases the only place.

In the play of "Everyman" when death comes stalking on the stage, saying, "Prepare to meet thy doom," great consternation arises. To go into the open grave alone when joyous companions have always surrounded on is indeed too frightful to contemplate. So "Everyman" urges his friends to undertake with him the unknown journey. But one by one they disappear unattracted by the prospect. He then approaches his relations. Surely one among them will be found who will accompany him. But they too, withdraw from his presence. But he will at least have "wealth," his old stand-by to be by his side, but even "wealth" fails him.

Only one other hope remains, perhaps good deeds will come to the rescue. But when approached she is found to be too weak and emaciated to rise from her couch.

But in the short time remaining before the journey must begin "Everyman" strives in all ways to strengthen her, and so successful is he that when "Death" comes with his final summons, "Everyman" and "Good Deeds" go down into the tomb hand in hand. As this play is taken by the listener, so does he measure up as to what manner of man he is.

Some writer has said that "The only things we carry with us into the next world are those we give away in this."

Altruism is a tonic. Let us take a liberal portion of it at this especial time.

DONATIONS FOR Y. W. C. A. ASKED FOR THE WINTER

Now that the frost is again on the pumpkin and the fodder is in the shock, the work of garnering in the autumn fruits is over.

Every good farmer has his store of grain, apples, potatoes in his granary and cellar; likewise every good housewife has her store of preserves and jellies ready again for the coming months.

The grocer's shelves are always full, and the miller's bins groaning with goodly grain. While the fattened calf hangs ever ready on the butcher's rack.

With so much preparedness against the wolf at the door, surely the farmer, grocer or butcher can spare from out these good things a contribution to the Y. W. C. A. as Harvest Donation Day. It will mean much to the success of Harvest Day November 25, this coming Saturday.

THIEF MAKES GOOD HAUL AT HUDSON AVENUE RESIDENCE

Returning to her home, 182 Hudson avenue, from a shopping tour late yesterday afternoon, Mrs. E. S. Miller found that her key would not open the front door. After several attempts to get into the house had failed Mrs. Miller sought assistance in opening the door.

Upon going into the house, Mrs. Miller found everything as she had left it two hours before, but later, while looking for a purse, discovered that the house had been ransacked during her absence and valuable heirlooms and money stolen.

The police were notified immediately of the daylight burglary and began an investigation. A thorough search of the house revealed that every part of the house had been gone over carefully. Besides the heirlooms which were invaluable to Mrs. Miller, police found that a bank containing about $28 in quarters and halves had been broken open and a Newark Trust Co. savings bank containing $30 carried away.

Entrance to the Miller home was gained by cutting a small hole just above the latch on a kitchen window, through which the thief was able to unfasten the catch. How this was accomplished is a mystery to Mrs. Miller and the police, as the window is plainly visible to several neighbors and on an alley which is well travelled.

Mrs. Miller said today that the jewelry missing consisted of heirlooms which to her were more valuable than money. Late last night the loss of an heirloom ring also was discovered.

The house showed no signs of disorder, despite the fact that every drawer had been carefully ransacked. It is thought by Mrs. Miller that the burglar or burglars were at work in the house when she returned and that they waited until she had departed and then made their escape.

A neighbor told police she had seen a man trying to get into the Miller home, but thought it a brother of Mrs. Miller. The thief covered his tracks so thoroughly that the police are without a clue.

MAN WANTED HERE TAKEN TO LONDON FOR CHECK FORGERY.

Chief of Police Sheridan today was notified by the Columbus police that W. C. Manning, wanted in this city for passing a bad check, had been taken into custody by the Columbus authorities and turned over to London, O., where he was previously wanted for a job pulled off there.

Chief Sheridan has an affidavit filed against Manning November 17 by Lee A. Phelan, who charged that on November 15, Manning had passed a check on him for $15. The Columbus police also want Manning for a number of jobs pulled in the south and it is doubtful if the man will ever be brought back to Newark.

YOUTH PLEADS GUILTY: HELD TO COURT; BOND $200.

Clyde Lee, the 18 year old bell hop at the Sherwood hotel, arrested in Zanesville Monday night and brought back to Newark to face a charge of stealing the sum of $73, this morning pleaded guilty when arraigned before Mayor Bigbee. He was held to the grand jury in the sum of $200.

Two plain drunks received the count of $5 and costs in police court this morning.
